ABSTRACT

This document lists the typical tuition and required fees and room and board charges assessed to college students in 1994-95 based on a national "Institutional Characteristics" survey which is part of the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System. The data were collected from over 5,000 of the 5,775 4-year, 2-year, and public less-then-2-year postsecondary institutions in the United States and its outlying areas. Included are tuition and fee charges to in-state and out-of-state students at the undergraduate and graduate levels, along with the costs for room and board, and the number of meals per week covered by the board charge. These charges are not weighted by enrollment. Included are several tables with national statistics on tuition and required fees at postsecondary institutions for academic year 1994-95 followed by tables showing charges at individual institutions and tuition and required fees for first-professional programs. A summary of the publication's statistics notes that the median charge at public 4-year institutions for tuition and fees was $2,445 for undergraduate, in-state students; that at public 2-year institutions tuition and required fees averaged $1,461 for in-state students; and that undergraduate tuition and fees at private, non-profit 4-year institutions averaged $8,967 for in-state undergraduate students. Foreword

This report lists the typical tuition and required fees and room and board charges assessed to students during academic year 1994-95 at more than 5,000 of the 5,775 4-year, 2-year, and public less-than-2-year postsecondary institutions in the United States and its outlying areas. Included are tuition and fee charges to in-state and out-of-state students at the undergraduate and graduate levels, along with the costs for room and board, and the number of meals per week covered by the board charge. Note that these charges are not weighted by enrollment, thus they constitute an average of the prices that postsecondary institutions charge. This information should be especially helpful to students, guidance counselors, and parents in evaluating the basic costs of attending specific postsecondary schools.

Basic Student Charges was prepared by the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES), U.S. Department of Education. The data were collected through the 1994-95 "Institutional Characteristics" survey conducted annually by NCES as part of its Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System.

Introduction

Basic Student Charges at Postsecondary Institutions: Academic Year 1994-95 lists tuition and required fees and room and board charges for academic year 1994-95 at more than 5,000 schools in the United States and its outlying areas.[1] These are the typical charges for these items that a full-time, full-year student should expect to pay to attend the institution. For the benefit of the user, a glossary of terms used in this report begins on page 163.

The student charges listed in this report should be used for reference and comparison purposes only, and not as a quote of actual charges at an institution. Tuition and fees may vary at an institution by student enrollment level or program and allowances should be made for increases that may have taken place since these data were gathered. In addition to these charges, a student should plan for other costs such as books and supplies, laboratory fees, transportation, and personal expenses.

There were 5,775 4-year, 2-year, and public less-than-2-year institutions in the United States and its outlying areas in the 1994-95 Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS) survey universe; of these, 5,366 responded to the IPEDS 1994-95 "Institutional Characteristics" survey for a response rate of 93 percent. More than 5,000 institutions provided data on basic student charges. The remaining schools either did not respond to the questions or did not offer programs to full-time students and, thus, were not required to respond. Tuition and fees and room and board charges are not imputed for nonrespondents to these items, so all columns are blank for these schools. Survey nonrespondents are indicated on the tables with a double asterisk (); schools with no full-time students are noted (@).

All institutions listed in this report were in operation during the 1994-95 school year. The student charges reported by the institutions were edited for reasonableness and consistency with charges for the previous year (1993-94). Large variations in charges from the previous year were verified with the institution; otherwise, the data were accepted as reported. For institutions that did not respond the previous year, data were accepted as reported although data that appeared questionable were verified with the institution. Zero charges represent actual reported responses.

Organization of This Report

Basic Student Charges includes several tables with national statistics on tuition and required fees at postsecondary institutions for academic year 1994-95 (tables A, B, and C). These data are followed by tuition and required fees and room and board charges at individual institutions (tables 1, 2, and 3) and tuition and required fees for first-professional programs (table 4). Table 1 lists public and private 4-year institutions, that is, those offering a bachelor's degree or higher award; table 2 lists public and private 2-year institutions, that is, those offering a postsecondary award of at least 2 but less than 4 academic years; table 3 lists public less-than-2-year institutions, that is, those offering a postsecondary award of less than 2 academic years; and table 4 provides tuition and required fees for first-professional programs, by institution.[2] Private less-than-2-year institutions are not included in this report because the data requested on student charges from these schools are requested by program and thus are not comparable to the academic year data presented in this report.

Schools are listed alphabetically by state in tables 1, 2, 3, and 4 (U.S. Service Schools are listed separately following Wyoming[3]). Schools in the outlying areas, such as Puerto Rico, follow the state listings. At the beginning of each state and outlying area in tables 1, 2, and 3, the user will note averages for the various student charges. These averages were calculated using data from the respondent institutions only, and no imputations were performed for nonresponse. The state averages reported here may differ from the state averages for all institutions to the degree that respondents are not representative of nonrespondents.[4] For the convenience of the user, an explanation of the codes used in the tables is provided in the next section of this publication and at the bottom of the last page of each table.

The institutional names in this report were transferred directly from the survey data tape. Thus, names may be abbreviated to accommodate the maximum number of 50 positions for this variable. Branch campuses may be further identified by their city location to aid the user of this report.

[2]Due to space limitations in this report, private nonprofit and private for-profit institutions are identified only as private institutions in the institutional listings in tables 1, 2, and 3. However, the introductory tables B and C provide selected national statistics on nonprofit and for-profit institutions.

[3]The U.S. Service Schools are listed separately in tables 1 and 2, so that their tuition and fees and room and board charges do not impact on state averages. Their actual locations are as follows: Community College of the Air Force (Alabama); Naval Postgraduate School (California); United States Air Force Academy (Colorado); United States Coast Guard Academy (Connecticut); United States Army Command and General Staff College (Kansas); Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences and United States Naval Academy (Maryland); United States Merchant Marine Academy and United States Military Academy (New York); and Air Force Institute of Technology (Ohio).

[4]The state/outlying area averages are based on actual institutional charges, that is, they are not weighted by student enrollment at institutions. Combined room and board charges are not included in the calculation of average charges for room and average charges for board.

A small number of institutions provide tuition, room and/or board free of charge. These "zero-dollar charges" were verified with the institution and are included in the calculation of the state/outlying area averages and in the summary statistics in introductory tables A, B, and C. If tuition, room, and/or board data were not provided by an institution (due to voluntary nonresponse or nonapplicability of the item to the institution), these "missing data cases" were not included in the calculation of averages or in the summary statistics.

Codes Used in the Tables

(H) Found to the left of an institution's name, "(H)" identifies the school as an institution of higher education. That is, the institution is accredited at the college level by an agency or association recognized by the Secretary, U.S. Department of Education.

 Many institutions reported a combined room and board charge. The combined charge is listed under "Room" and an asterisk (*) is entered under "Board." Combined charges were not included as part of the calculation of state averages.

 Institutions with a double asterisk () to the right of their name did not respond to any of the items on student charges. The majority of these institutions were total nonrespondents to the 1994-95 "Institutional Characteristics" survey which collected these data. The remainder responded to the survey but did not answer any of the items on student charges in this report.

* Institutions with a triple asterisk () to the right of their name reported tuition and required fees for in-district students that were at least 10 percent lower than the charge to in-state students. Only tables 2 and 3 carry this code, as in-district charges are generally a phenomenon of public 2-year and public less-than-2-year schools.

(#) Found to the right of a state name or other area, "(#)" indicates that no postsecondary institutions were identified at the 4-year, 2-year, or public less-than-2-year level. Although there may be such institutions in the state or area, they must respond to the "Institutional Characteristics" survey before they can be included in the universe of postsecondary institutions maintained by the National Center for Education Statistics. (Institutions that did not respond to the "Institutional Characteristics" survey were verified to be in operation during the 1994-95 school year.)

$$ Found to the right of the institution's name, "$$" indicates that the school has one charge that includes tuition, fees, room, and board.

V A "V" in the number of meals per week column means that this number varies by student or by meal plan.

@ Found to the right of the institution's name, the "@" denotes the institution indicated there were no full-time students enrolled, thus no tuition data were to be reported.

+ Indicates that the state average is the average of respondent institutions only. It will differ from the state average for all institutions to the degree that respondents are not representative of nonrespondents. Again, these averages are not weighted in any way.

Summary Statistics on Tuition and Required Fees Charged by Postsecondary Institutions

The summary data on tuition and required fees found in tables A, B, and C are presented to inform prospective students of the wide variation in these charges among different types of institutions. The total cost of attending a postsecondary institution can be significantly reduced by taking tuition charges into consideration when choosing a school. As a general rule, tuition is much lower at public institutions than at private institutions, and public institutions generally offer in-state students lower tuition rates than students attending from out-of-state.

Tuition and required fees at public postsecondary institutions

Public 4-year institutions

Generally speaking, public 4-year institutions charge much lower tuition and required fees to students who attend these schools in the state where they legally reside (table A). For example, in academic year 1994-95 the mean (i.e., average) institutional charge was $2,635 for an undergraduate student who attended a public 4-year school in the state where he or she legally resided, compared to $6,670 for an out-of-state student. Average institutional charges to graduate students were also much lower for in-state residents than for out-of-state residents ($2,889 compared to $6,608).

The median charge for tuition and fees was $2,445 for undergraduate, in-state students, falling somewhat below the mean charge. (The median charge lies at the midpoint when charges are arrayed in order from lowest to highest, or highest to lowest). In other words, half of all responding institutions reported tuition and fee charges to undergraduate, in-state students above $2,445, while half reported charges below this amount. The mean charge of $2,635 was higher than the median charge due to a small number of relatively higher-priced institutions.

There was a broad spread of tuition and fee charges when all public 4-year institutions were considered. For example, while 25 percent of these institutions charged $3,182 or more to undergraduate, in-state students, the bottom quarter charged $1,853 or less to such students. In-state tuition and fees charges ranged from $0 (at 6 institutions) to $7,806 (at the most expensive institution).

Public 2-year institutions

On average, public 2-year institutions charged in-state residents $1,461 for tuition and required fees in 1994-95, compared to the average out-of-state charge of $3,315. The median in-state charge was $1,200. Twenty-five percent of public 2-year schools charged $685 or less to in-state students for tuition and fees, while schools in the top quarter charged $1,956 or more.

Public less-than-2-year institutions

In-state residents attending public less-than-2-year institutions were charged an average tuition and required fees of $2,563 in 1994-95. However, 25 percent of all such institutions charged $823 or less to in-state students for tuition and fees, and the top 25 percent charged $3,965 or more.

Tuition and required fees at private postsecondary institutions

At private institutions, the charges for tuition and required fees seldom vary by a student's in-state or out-of-state status; however both charges are presented in this report.

Private 4-year institutions

Undergraduate tuition and fees at private, nonprofit 4-year institutions averaged $8,967 for in-state students ($8,978 for out-of-state) in academic year 1994-95 (table B), nearly three and one-half times the average charge of $2,635 to undergraduate, in-state students at public 4-year institutions. The difference in tuition was much closer for out-of-state undergraduates ($6,670 at public schools vs. $8,978 at the private, nonprofit schools). At the graduate level, private, nonprofit schools charged an average of $7,110 for tuition and fees to in-state students ($7,139 to those from out-of-state). Again, these charges are noticeably higher than those at public 4-year schools.

Tuition and fees at the 4-year for-profit institutions, although high, varied considerably less than those at private, nonprofit 4-year institutions. For example, undergraduate in-state tuition varied from $0 to $25,750 at the 4-year nonprofit schools, while the for-profit institutions varied from $1,995 to $14,175. Charges for tuition and fees to graduate students also varied widely for the 67 schools responding. One institution offered free tuition ($0), while the highest tuition charged was $26,300, with an average charge of $7,405.

Private 2-year institutions

Nonprofit 2-year institutions charged in-state students an average of $3,953 for tuition and required fees in 1994-95 (table B), less than two-thirds of that charged by for-profit institutions ($6,496).

Glossary

Academic year. The period of time generally extending from September to June and usually equated to two semesters or trimesters, three quarters, or the period covered by a 4-1-4 plan.

Board charge. The charge for an academic year for meals, for a specified number of days (or meals) per week. (In this report, when a combined room and board plan is offered at an institution, the cost is reported under "Room," and an asterisk (*) is found under "Board." The combined charge is not part of the calculation to determine average charges.

First-professional program. A program that requires all of the following to satisfy completion: (1) completion of the academic requirements to begin practice in the profession; (2) at least 2 years of college work prior to entering the program; and (3) a total of at least 6 academic years of college work to complete the degree program, including prior required college work plus the length of the professional program itself.

Full-time student.

> Undergraduate: A student enrolled for 12 or more semester credits, 12 or more quarter credits, or 24 or more contact hours a week each term.
> Graduate: A student enrolled for 9 or more semester credits, or 9 or more quarter credits.
> First-Professional: As defined by the institution.

Full-year student. A student who attends an institution for a full academic year (see Academic year).

Graduate student. A student who holds a bachelor's or first-professional degree, or equivalent, and is taking courses at the postbaccalaureate level. These students may or may not be enrolled in graduate programs.

In-district student. A student who is a legal resident of the locality in which he or she attends school and thus is entitled to reduced tuition charges if offered by the institution. (In this report, institutions with a triple asterisk () to the right of their name charge tuition and required fees to in-district students that are at least 10 percent lower than the charge to in-state students.) This code is found in the 2-year and public less-than-2-year tables only, since 4-year schools generally do not have separate in-district charges.

In-state student. A student who is a legal resident of the state in which he or she attends school.

Meals per week. See Board charge.

Out-of-state student. A student who is not a legal resident of the state in which he or she attends school.

Private, for-profit institution. A private institution in which the individual(s) or agency in control receives compensation other than wages, rent or other expenses for the assumption of risk.

Private institution. An educational institution controlled by a private individual(s) or by a nongovernmental agency, usually supported primarily by other than public funds, and operated by other than publicly elected or appointed officials.

Private, nonprofit institution. A private institution in which the individual(s) or agency in control receives no compensation, other than from wages, rent, or other expenses for the assumption of risk. These include both independent nonprofit schools and those affiliated with a religious organization.

Public. An educational institution whose programs and activities are operated by publicly elected or appointed school officials and that is supported primarily by public funds.

Residence. A person's permanent address determined by such evidence as a driver's license or voter registration. For entering freshmen, residence may be the legal residence of a parent or guardian.

Room charge. The charge for an academic year for rooming accommodations of a typical student sharing a room with one other student.

Tuition and required fees.

> Tuition: Tuition is the amount of money charged to students for instructional services. Tuition may be charged per term, per course, or per credit. (Note: the tuition charges shown in this publication are for a full academic year.)
> Required fees: Required fees are all fixed sum charges to students for items not covered by tuition and that are required of such a large proportion of all students that the student who does not pay the charge is an exception. This figure does not include such items as books, lab fees, or transportation expenses.

Undergraduate student. A student enrolled in a 4- or 5-year bachelor's degree program, in an associate's degree program, or in a vocational or technical program below the baccalaureate.
